STATE WILL NOT HELP PAY
Gov. Scofield Withdraws Offer to Stand
Part of Paving Cost.

Madison, Wis., July 17—Gov. Scofield withdrew his offer on behalf of the state to pay one-half of the expense of asphaltating eight blocks of the street surrounding the Capitol park. The total cost of the work would be about $1,500. The governor became tired over the bickering and strife that arose over the proposed improvement and hence his action. An injunction secured by three property owners restraining Mayor Hovey and City Clerk Norsemann from signing the paving contracts is now pending in the courts. The enjoinders, among other reasons for asking the court to permanently restrain the city from consummating the paving contract allege that the governor has no legal right to involve the state in the proposed improvement and put the state's money into it. The intention of the city authorities now is to ask the legislature to authorize the proposed expenditure.

Will Not Vote For Bryan
Kaukauna, Wis., July 17—The resignation of Attorney G. H. Dawson of this city, as secretary of the county democratic committee, and his refusal to support the Bryan-Stevenson National Ticket is followed by the announcement that Peter Reuter, president of the Bank of Kaukauna; Otto Runte, leading general merchant; A. originally paved with crushed stone at the expense of the entire city, are in a deplorable condition. The street car company, which will be put to heavy expense by the change in pavement and which for a time opposed it, is now willing and anxious to have the improvement made.

SENSATIONAL TESTIMONY IS HEARD IN TWO FAMOUS MURDER CASES

JESTER'S CHANCE LESSENED BY PEDDLER'S STORY.

W. W. Shrewsbury Says He Met the Two Men Beside the Road, and Afterward Saw Gates' Body in the Wagon—Jester Said Gates Was Drunk.

New London, Mo., July 17—[Special Telegram]—The celebrated Jester murder trial was warmed up this morning by the testimony of W. W. Shrewsbury, a book peddler. He said he met Jester and young Gates in 1871 on the roadside near the middle of a grove and described both accurately. The next day he met Jester in whose wagon he saw the wounded body of Gates, who, Jester claimed, was drunk. This testimony is regarded as extremely important as it fits in accurately with that of witness already sworn. Things look very black for Jester, and the general belief is that he will be convicted. The defense has some hard nuts to crack.

"The utmost efforts are being made to protect the foreign ministers who were well on the thirteenth" (Corresponding to our July ninth.) "If Tien Tsin should be destroyed it would be difficult to restore the same in one hundred years. We request the powers to preserve it as the consequences would affect Chinese and foreign commerce. Earl Li Hung is transferred to North China as viceroy of Chih Li."

Washington, July 17—[Special Telegram]—Secretary Hay today received a dispatch from Consul McWade at Canton, saying that Li Hung Chang sailed today for Hong Kong, in pursuance to an edict appointing him viceroy Chih Li and commanding his immediate presence there. Fears are entertained at Canton that his absence will cause a disturbance.

MAIL IS DELIVERED AT FARMERS' DOOR.

FOUR MORE RURAL ROUTES ARE NOW LAID OUT.

Beloit and Brodhead Are the Headquarters, and the Service Is Fully Appreciated—Benefits of the System Are Many and Varied—Origin of the Plan.

Beginning today, rural mail delivery will be inaugurated at Brodhead, Wis. The route extends through the northwest portion of Spring Valley and the southwest part of Magnolia, N. N. Palmer was the first to propose the route. Mr. Palmer looked after the Spring Valley and M. J. Harper the Magnolia parts of the route respectively. About one hundred families are served and greatly appreciate the service. The route is about twenty-three miles in extent. Will Clark is the carrier.

Beloit, Wis., July 16—Two rural mail delivery routes leading from this city were instituted today.

Origin of the System

It has been a little over a year since the postal department started into the work of forming and equipping these routes for a rural delivery and nothing the department has ever done has been more successful. The first assistant postmaster general in his report for the year 1899 says, "There has been nothing in the history of the postal service of the United States so remarkable as the growth of the rural free delivery system. It can no longer be considered as an experiment, but has to be dealt with as an established agency to progress, awaiting only the action of congress to determine how rapidly it shall be developed."

The first efforts to establish postal delivery routes in rural districts dates back to the time of the Fifty-third congress, and for several years after that there was little done. In 1896 the first real test was made. In 1899 the "Carol county experiment," as it is known, was made. This consisted in placing a whole county under the rural routes, substituting the star routes and the fourth class offices with the carriers. Carroll county, Maryland, was chosen as the locality for the experiment, on account of its nearness to Washington and its make-up, containing no large towns and largely made up of farm settlements and villages.

Trial Proves a Success

The trial was started in December, 1899, with thirty carriers and four mail wagons. During the first three months of the present year the postal revenues have increased 23.5 per cent.

There are many good results following the introduction of these routes. The effect of putting the farmers in touch with the world in general by a daily mail is to quicken them and give them new ideas of things which work to their advantage. The daily markets, daily intelligence of the happenings of the world and the educational advantage of the daily newspaper are all given where before they were denied. The time formerly lost in going to and from the postoffice for the mail is saved and time is money. Better roads usually follow the introduction of these routes.

TRY JOHN D. MOSHER ON HOLD-UP CHARGE

JANESVILLE MAN IN TROUBLE AT CHICAGO.

Former Resident of This City, Now a Policeman, Is Confronted With the Allegation That He Helped to Rob a Man—A Woman in the Case, Apparently.

John D. Mosher, formerly of this city, but now a member of the Chicago police force, is under charges at the Windy City.

The allegation is that Mosher and fellow officer named Sheehan held up a man named McDougal at a picnic.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean tells of the progress of the hearing, and the development of the case, as follows:

Policemen John D. Mosher and Patrick J. Sheehan, suspected of having held up and robbed Hugh McDougal in Sharpshooters' park Sunday night, July 1, were before the civil-service commission yesterday. Chief Kipley and his operatives had secured many witnesses against the two officers.

A North Side jeweler testified that Sheehan was the man who purchased from him the watch charm McDougal snatched from the vest of one of his assailants. The jeweler produced his books to show that Sheehan was the policeman who had purchased the charm and who, incidentally, had failed to pay for it.

Mosher was startled while his principal witness, Jennie Kewalis, a good looking young woman, was on the stand. She was telling of the good character of the accused policemen and of accidentally meeting them at the picnic previous to the robbery, at which time Sheehan, she said, wore neither watch chain nor charm. Commissioner Ela asked her if Policeman Mosher's wife did not hold her (Miss Kewalis) responsible for the separation of the officer and herself. A few moments later Miss Kewalis was startled by being confronted by Mrs. Mosher. The policeman's wife, a comely young woman, had read in the papers of the accusations against her husband, and with her little daughter had traveled from Doughtery, Wis., to attend the hearing. Arriving late, she went direct to the rooms of the civil service commission. She entered the room as Miss Kewalis was testifying. Mrs. Mosher called Chief Kipley from the room and told him her story. The chief gave the information to the commission and the questioning resulted.

C. M. Richardson Testifies

The first witness of the afternoon was C. M. Richardson, a jeweler at Clark and Superior streets. He brought with him an armful of his business books. He told in a straightforward manner of selling March 18, 1899, the Royal Arcanum charm that was snatched from one of the men who robbed McDougal. He identified the charm by his private mark upon it, and identified Sheehan as the Policeman Sheehan to whom he had sold it. His books verified his statement. He said that the charm had not been paid for. While this evidence was being given all eyes were directed at Sheehan. The policeman turned intensely red, but made no motion. Policeman Charles Moore was recalled from the continued hearing of a week before to testify that he had found the charm with a fragment of the chain beside McDougal's hat on the spot in the picnic grounds where the Scotchman said he had been robbed. He also said that when he arrested Sheehan and Mosher that night he saw a fragment of the same chain dangling from Sheehan's vest.

Policeman A. J. McLaughlin was called and testified that he had seen Mosher and Sheehan in the park together that afternoon and evening, and that he saw Sheehan wearing a watch, chain and charm, and that to the best of his belief the charm found in the grounds by Moore and identified as Sheehan's by Jeweler Richardson was the one he saw Sheehan wearing.

During all of this testimony for the prosecution Attorney Daniel Donahoe, representing Sheehan and Mosher, continued a hot cross fire of questions, but he was unable to swerve the witnesses in their testimony.

Witnesses for Accused

Witnesses for the policemen were next called. Emma Abel of No. 191 Division street, was the first. She said she and Jennie Kewalis, who roomed with her, had attended the picnic at Sharpshooters' park the night of July 1, and that they had met Mosher and Sheehan, who were in full uniform and on duty. She said that Miss Kewalis had known one of the policemen before, and that they "all got acquainted." She did not remember seeing Sheehan wearing a watch chain or charm that night. She said that when the robbery occurred she and Miss Kewalis heard McDougal's call for help. At the same time, she said, she and her friend, Miss Kewalis, saw Mosher and Sheehan in a part of the park far removed from the scene of the robbery.

Miss Kewalis next took the stand. She was calm and seemed positive in her statements during the first part of the testimony, but when the Mosher family difficulties were mentioned she became excited and made several emotional addresses to Commissioner Lindblom and Ela. She reiterated the statements made by Miss Abel, and when Mr. Donahoe was through with her he turned her over to the commissioners. In the meantime Mrs. Mosher had arrived from Wisconsin, and had related her knowledge of Miss Kewalis to Mr. Ela, through Chief Kipley.

Woman Was Angry.

"You are aware," asked Mr. Ela that you are accused of having caused the separation of Mosher and his wife, are you not?"

This brought a vigorous objection from Mr. Donahoe, who protested that Mosher's family affairs had nothing to do with his innocence or guilt of the charges. There was a continued argument between Messrs. Ela and Donahoe, and finally Miss Kewalis settled the matter by half raising from her seat, trembling and looking daggers at Commissioner Ela, while she exclaimed:

"It is an outrage to bring this matter up. I was not accused of breaking up their home!"

"But you knew they had separated?" asked the commissioner.

"Yes, but I didn't cause it."

"You associated with him before and after the separation, did you not?"

"Well, yes; but I never made any appointments with him, and I had no engagements with him." Finally the objections of Attorney Donahoe prevailed, and Miss Kewalis was excused.

Then Mr. Donahoe asked a continuance for a week because of the absence of a number of witnesses. He desired the presence of James O'Shaughnessy, a brakeman on the Northwestern railroad, who, he said, accompanied Miss Kewalis and Miss Abel to the picnic, and could verify their statements. He also wishes the presence of Policeman McCarthy, who, he said, had introduced Mosher to Miss Kewalis, and who could tell of their relations. McCarthy had been told to be present, but failed to come.

Two Women Meet.

As Miss Kewalis left the room she passed directly in front of Mrs. Mosher and her little daughter. Mrs. Mosher looked steadily at her while Miss Kewalis turned her eyes away.

Chief Kipley announced to the commissioners that he intended to drop the charges of assault and robbery pending against the accused policeman before Judge Gibbons. The chief said he would not produce his witnesses at the hearing this morning. He declined to say why he took this action, but it was suggested that he disapproved of McDougal's action in procuring warrants without consulting him. At the time that McDougal secured the warrants he was of the opinion that the officials of the police department would attempt to shield the two accused policemen, not because of friendship but to prevent humiliation of the department. McDougal is now convinced, however, that Chief Kipley is sincere in his prosecution of Sheehan and Mosher.

The civil service commissioners would not consent to an adjournment of proceedings for a week, and it was agreed that the case shall be finished at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The Tribune says that Mrs. Mosher was summoned from Janesville to attend the trial.

MR. NATHAN GASTON DEAD AT BELOIT

PIONEER SCALE MAKER OF THE LINE CITY.

Built His Plant When There Were But Few Other Houses in Beloit—He Cast His First Vote For William Henry Harrison in 1840 and Remained a Republican.

Beloit, Wis., July 17—Nathan B. Gaston, the pioneer manufacturer of Beloit, died yesterday at the advanced age of 90 years.

He established his scale works here in 1844. Mr. Gaston was born in Auburn, N. Y., March 17, 1810. At an early age he was apprenticed to the trade of a gunsmith. Going to Rochester, N. Y., he obtained employment at making gun locks and resided in that city one year when he went to Albany in 1832 and there passing the five succeeding years of his life. On August 2 Mr. Gaston was married to Eliza Battin. On the day of their marriage they started for Wisconsin and became residents of Beloit when but one house marked the sight of what is now known as West Beloit. He built the first manufacturing establishment in the city and can truthfully be called its pioneer manufacturer. No man was ever more faithful to business than he and his exceptional abilities and keen insight into the future of the scale trade made his name and the fame of his products prominent all over the country. He was an indefatigable worker and had said once that "It is better to wear out than to rust out."

Mr. Gaston is survived by his wife and six children as follows: Augustine J. Thomas, Edward and Theodore Irving, all members of the company of N. B. Gaston & Sons in this city; Mrs. Arthur Brown of Prairie du Chien, Mrs. Bessie Gaston Wise of Chicago, and Miss Anna Gaston, at home.

Politically Mr. Gaston was an inflexible adherent to the principles and doctrines of the republican party. He cast his first presidential vote in 1840 for William Henry Harrison and attended the state convention at Syracuse which body sent its representatives to the national convention which nominated the Tippecanoe hero. His religious affiliations were with the Episcopal church, being confirmed at Ithaca, N. Y., in 1842. He always took a deep interest in the local city affairs and was at one time prominently identified in them. He was chairman of the town committee when the first railroad came to Beloit.

BY RUTH EVERETT.

Our Animal
Protective League.
What It Is
And Its Object.

"He who directs the thoughts of the child molds the character of the man," once said some wise old dignitary of the church.

The most zealous adult can scarcely keep pace with an enthusiastic child. Vest a boy with a little authority, teach him something that is not generally known, let him understand that he is wiser than his generation, and he will voluntarily go forth to teach and to preach. With a knowledge and appreciation of these facts Mrs. Myles Standish of New York in May, 1899, organized Our Animal Protective League. Far from exploiting her work in the newspapers, Mrs. Standish, the president of the league, said to one and all: "We do not care to talk about what we are going to do. When we have done something, come and see us."

FEEDING A SICK DOG.

Although but one short year has passed since the first meeting was held to found the league, and the society was not incorporated until last December, and as time and more particularly league and association life are reckoned, Our Animal Protective League is but an infant, a baby that could not be severely criticised were it still just crawling, it actually possesses the country, is an association that the nation is proud of, has correspondents, chapters, roots and branches from Canada to the gulf, from Maine to Oregon.

Speaking of the design and operations of the league, the president says: "The object of the league is to interest and educate all children practically in the care, protection and kindly treatment of animals, and its operations may be spoken of under the general heads preparatory work, lectures and chapter work."

"Before chapters can be formed in any place the agents in advance—if one might be permitted to make use of a comprehensive phrase of the theatrical world—visit the public schools and other places where they can get at the children and in addresses and lectures tell the object of their visit. Wherever a representative of the league can address a conference of teachers it is done. The result is that the children become enthusiasts for the cause and directly set about forming chapters."

Formerly the requirements for forming these chapters were that not less than ten children present themselves to an authorized representative of the league. The number has now been increased to 20. They must bring with them reputable vouchers from their minister or some well known person. If the committee representing the proposed chapter is able to satisfy the league of its respectability and earnestness of purpose, each child signs his name and address to a card upon which is printed a seven pointed gilt star enclosing the words, 'Our Animal Protective League' which is the facsimile of a badge for which there is a nominal charge and which thenceforth becomes the badge of his membership and his pride and glory. There is also printed on the card, 'I hereby promise that as far as in my power lies I will prevent all cruelty to dumb animals and will aid and succor those that are weak and helpless.'

"The league appoints a director for each chapter, but the boys have their own by-laws and order of business. They appoint their own officers and conduct their own meetings under the strictest adherence to parliamentary rules, in which they are instructed. The strongest link binding these boys is the esprit de corps, or loyalty to the league as a national institution. But there is a keen, proud, lively devotion to their own particular chapter, from which each member goes forth as a sort of committee of one to redress all the evil and abuse to animals that may come under his notice. Also among the matters on which regular committees are formed are executive, reception, fine, nomination, initiation, sugar, seed, scrapbook, photographs, watering, galls, improper harness, blaneting, ventilation and checkrein."

"All successful educators are early brought to an appreciation of the importance of impressing upon the pupil his individual worth and responsibility. Of course it is manifest that a boy but three feet high could not illustrate to an ignorant driver wherein his horse was improperly harnessed, so these little lads are appointed walking delegates at large to 'keep tabs' on the drivers that are unkind to their horses."

and subsequently disgrace these inhuman men by reporting them and their city license number in the chapter meetings. The boys are taken to a stable where they are shown how to harness and unharness. They are also given a few simple instructions in the care and management of all kinds of animals.

"For conduct unbecoming a member of the league a boy must walk up to the desk of the chairman of his chapter and in presence of all his little mates take off his badge. He is thus virtually expelled in disgrace. It is pretty hard. A good flogging or supperless to bed for a week would be nothing compared to it, but it is found efficacious, hence the practice is continued.

"Few people who have inaugurated good works have been permitted to foresee so grand a future as sometimes evolves. For instance, who would have thought that the formation of a chapter of this Animal Protective league could lead boys into literature and publishing? But it has. The True Blue chapter in New York city has a printing press from which will shortly be issued a magazine that is to be the official organ of the chapter. The boys will call their periodical Our Animal Budget of the True Blue Chapter. For the initial number two good stories have already been contributed by the members of the chapter.

"Every member of a chapter is kept in touch with what the others are doing at their regular meetings. One of the biggest of the boys may get up and say: 'Since our last meeting I have stopped two runaways.' He may be followed by a little chap who will say: 'I saw a poor horse whose feed bag was tied so low that he could not reach the grain. The horse's head was too high for me to unbuckle the bag. I couldn't find anything to stand on, but at last I thought I would rest the feed bag on my own head. So I did, and I stood there till the horse had finished his dinner.' The next boy may say: 'When I was going to school, I saw a poor cat that was nearly starved. I had 2 cents, so I went to a butcher's and bought some liver for the cat. The next morning I brought some meat from home, and now that cat meets me every morning on my way to school.'

"Still another boy may say: 'There was a two wheeled cart very heavily loaded with vegetables, and the belly-band was awful tight, so I told the man about it and told him that the load was too heavy and not put on right, and I told him how to load it from the middle to both ends. He was mad and told me to mind my own business, and so I showed him my badge, and he quieted down and took some of the load off, while he let out the belly-band and fixed the load, and then it was all right.'

Within the limits of a newspaper article it is impossible to tell one-hundredth part of the good the league is doing. Mrs. Standish avows that the direct object of the league is to improve the condition of all domestic animals. There can be no doubt that the exigencies of the case forcing her, as they do, to educate the youth of the land, to graft upon the young mind that "the merciful man is merciful to his beast," while she says that there are thousands of societies for the child, but hers is for animals. This is a case where the indirect object is greater than the direct one, the means bolder than the end.

Undoubtedly the verdict of the future will be that the league, while protecting animals, brought into the higher light of love and kindness the rising generation of its day and so deserved and inherited corporate life to the end of time.

No. 239 Fourth avenue, New York city, is the national headquarters of Our Animal Protective league.

Household Hints.
Mildew stains should be dipped in milk and allowed to soak for a few hours. To remove tea stains dip the soiled portions of the cloth in a bowl of warm water and squeeze and press with the hands. If the stains are old, add a few drops of ammonia to the water. Claret stains should be covered with salt while still wet. Should they dry before being removed lay the soiled portions over a bowl and pour boiling water through them until the stains disappear. Coffee stains may be removed in the same manner.

"All successful educators are early brought to an appreciation of the importance of impressing upon the pupil his individual worth and responsibility. Of course it is manifest that a boy but three feet high could not illustrate to an ignorant driver wherein his horse was improperly harnessed, so these little lads are appointed walking delegates at large to 'keep tabs' on the drivers that are unkind to their horses."

THE BEST THEY KNOW.

YOU remember the old lady who rode for the first time on a railway train. There was a frightful collision, but when the rescuers reached her she was quite calm. She said she supposed they always stopped that way. The story well illustrates why so many women are satisfied to live without Ivory Soap. They have never tried it! Naturally enough, they think that annoying odors, sharp chemicals, and wasteful greasiness are common to all soaps.

Smallpox Scare Is Unfounded.

Springfield, Ill., July 17.—Secretary Egan of the state board of health says he is unable to account for the report given out in Chicago that there are now some 2,000 cases of smallpox in Illinois.

"As a matter of fact," said the secretary, "there is less smallpox in Illinois than there has been at any time during the past nine months. I do not believe that, all told, there are now 100 cases in the state."

THE GOVERNORSHIP.

Evansville Badger—Mr. LaFollette's canvass for governor is running itself. In fact a tidal wave has grown and rolled up day by day as it has swept over the state.

It is the fury of young enthusiasm. The spread of the movement demonstrates again for the hundredth time the futility of well laid plans. The venerable machine in the party had no idea of allowing Mr. LaFollette to be nominated. They had forgotten all about a lot of vigorous voters who used to be boys but who have come of age while the old rattle trap had long been crying for grease.

Mr. LaFollette need not be surprised if he is nominated by acclamation.

Senator Whitehead has shown himself a good politician by withdrawing from the canvass for the governorship.

The people of Rock county are for LaFollette. Senator Whitehead has received honors from his district, has borne them handsomely and will no doubt be further advanced in popular confidence.

The Chicago Times Herald is responsible for the statement that the railroads killed or injured 4,176 more people during the year ending June 30, 1889, than the combined losses of the Americans in the former war and of the British in the latter war. However this may be, it is likely that the average person will still prefer a railway pass to a certificate of enlistment.

The republicans of Green county adopted resolutions endorsing Mr. LaFollette for governor, and expressing the hope that Senator Spooner could be induced to reconsider his decision to retire, and again consent to represent this state in the United States senate.

General Lew Wallace denies the statement that he will preside at an anti-imperialist meeting, saying that he deems the meeting “traitorous.” General Wallace fought for the flag once, and will never raise his voice against it.

It is now said that Eugene V. Debs will withdraw from the presidential race in favor of William J. Bryan. Debs? Debs? Oh yes. All right, Eugene, do as you think best.

A man who makes artificial butter is likely to be nominated as mayor of Chicago, presumably with the idea that he would be able to put up a good imitation of a proper administration.

Six democrats aspire to the governorship of Kentucky, but the people aspire to a republican administration, so the dems. may as well bury their ambition.

Senator Stebbins is an ex-naval officer, and a classmate of Admiral Dewey. Yet he refuses to pull out, despite the fact that “Dewey did it.”

A Kansas City mob attacked a Chinese laundry the other day because of the Boxer outrages, and cleaned it out.

The proprietor was collared and cuffed, but the police came in time to prevent his being soaked.

China evidently believes, to quote the expression of a noted gold democrat, in “free silver and free h—l.”

The dead and buried Filipinos appear to be coming to life again with startling regularity these days.

Applications for the Chinese consulate are not very plentiful these days.

What's in a name? “Tien Tsin” means “The Gate of Heaven.”

MILTON JUNCTION

Milton Junction, July 17.—The heaviest rain of the season fell today, low lands were covered and some cellars filled during the storm. The depot at the south “Y” received a coat of paint Saturday. If a covered passageway between the two tracks could be made it would be a great convenience for passengers and freight during such storms as that of Monday. E. D. Coon and daughter Mary went on the excursion to Williams Bay last Thursday. While the others were sight seeing, he was doing business with the school board and sold a bill of two hundred dollars worth of school seats for the new school house beside other things. His commission for the days work was about equal to what his cows bring him in each month. There is nothing like farming. Mabel Rogers has gone to her home in Chicago. Mrs. Oscar Oleson and children of Fontana are visiting friends in this vicinity. Philip Sullivan has moved his family to Janesville where he has been working for some time. Mrs. Charles Williams and sister, Mrs. Strong, of Albion, called at A. D. Frink's last week. The S. D. B. Sabbath School held a picnic at “Richardson” on Rock river last Tuesday. Those who were present report a very enjoyable time.

Harry Burdick has gone as one of a quartette of singers from Chicago to assist in evangelistic work during the summer vacation. Rev. Hills of Nortonville, Kansas, was in town last Thursday. He has left his wife and baby with his parents at Milton while he conducts some meetings at Marquette, this state, with one of the Milton quartettes. Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bates of Clinton Junction, visited at E. D. Coon's Thursday. Mrs. Rogers and Miss Delana started for a visit at Salt Lake, Utah, Monday. A goodly number of Junction people went to Lake Geneva on the excursion last Tuesday. Frank Shadel has moved into his fine new residence and this week presented his wife with a fine new piano. The ladies of the Seventh-Day Baptist church learning that Tuesday was Mrs. Crandall's, the pastor's wife's birthday, called on her that evening, and after congratulating her on having reached the age of sixty years, presented her with a beautiful clock. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Shadel visited Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rogers, near Stoughton, the past week. Mrs. Codman has returned from her visit at Ripon. Esther Cole is visiting relatives at Albion.

Minerva J. Church was born in Orleans county, New York, May 12, 1839, and died in Milton Junction July 8, 1900. Besides her mother, the deceased leaves three brothers: Fred, with whom she and her mother lived; George, who lives in the town of Lima; and Orville, who resides in Janesville. The father died in 1891. The funeral was held at the home on Thursday afternoon, July 5, conducted by Rev. Mr. Varney, of Monroe, and was largely attended. The interment was in the Milton cemetery, the services at the grave being in charge of the Eastern Star, of which order Miss Church was a member.

Consumption Disappearing.

Sir J. Crichton Browne is of opinion that consumption will in the ordinary course disappear in sixty years. He believes, however, says the London correspondent of the Sussex Daily News, that with caution in the nursing of the patients it may be got rid of in half that time.

A WICKED RUNAWAY IN BUSINESS PART

Simeon Simmons Team Take a Circle About and Smash Up a Few Vehicles.

A pair of horses belonging to Simeon Simmons of the town of Janesville, in charge of the hired man, made a wicked run this afternoon on South River street and succeeded in wrecking two buggies and breaking the wagon they were hitched to before they were caught.

The horses were on the scales at the Doty mill, in the rear of the Recorder office. The man in charge was in the mill getting some feed when the horses became alarmed and started on a run. They dashed out of the alley in the rear of Lowell's store and turned south on River street. In front of Vankirk's grocery they collided with a buggy belonging to Jack Wright breaking one hind wheel and the thills, then ran across the street and struck a top buggy hitched in front of Koester's saloon belonging to Mr. Arnold of Footville, wrecking both hind wheels and smashing it up badly. At this point one of the runaway horses stumbled and fell. Before he could get up several men from the crowd that had collected, jumped onto him and held him down while others held the other and stopped them. They did not run far, but did considerable damage while going.

MILTON JUNCTION

Milton Junction, July 17.—The heaviest rain of the season fell today, low lands were covered and some cellars filled during the storm. The depot at the south “Y” received a coat of paint Saturday. If a covered passageway between the two tracks could be made it would be a great convenience for passengers and freight during such storms as that of Monday. E. D. Coon and daughter Mary went on the excursion to Williams Bay last Thursday. While the others were sight seeing, he was doing business with the school board and sold a bill of two hundred dollars worth of school seats for the new school house beside other things. His commission for the days work was about equal to what his cows bring him in each month. There is nothing like farming. Mabel Rogers has gone to her home in Chicago. Mrs. Oscar Oleson and children of Fontana are visiting friends in this vicinity. Philip Sullivan has moved his family to Janesville where he has been working for some time. Mrs. Charles Williams and sister, Mrs. Strong, of Albion, called at A. D. Frink's last week. The S. D. B. Sabbath School held a picnic at “Richardson” on Rock river last Tuesday. Those who were present report a very enjoyable time.

Harry Burdick has gone as one of a quartette of singers from Chicago to assist in evangelistic work during the summer vacation. Rev. Hills of Nortonville, Kansas, was in town last Thursday. He has left his wife and baby with his parents at Milton while he conducts some meetings at Marquette, this state, with one of the Milton quartettes. Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bates of Clinton Junction, visited at E. D. Coon's Thursday. Mrs. Rogers and Miss Delana started for a visit at Salt Lake, Utah, Monday. A goodly number of Junction people went to Lake Geneva on the excursion last Tuesday. Frank Shadel has moved into his fine new residence and this week presented his wife with a fine new piano. The ladies of the Seventh-Day Baptist church learning that Tuesday was Mrs. Crandall's, the pastor's wife's birthday, called on her that evening, and after congratulating her on having reached the age of sixty years, presented her with a beautiful clock. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Shadel visited Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rogers, near Stoughton, the past week. Mrs. Codman has returned from her visit at Ripon. Esther Cole is visiting relatives at Albion.

Minerva J. Church was born in Orleans county, New York, May 12, 1839, and died in Milton Junction July 8, 1900. Besides her mother, the deceased leaves three brothers: Fred, with whom she and her mother lived; George, who lives in the town of Lima; and Orville, who resides in Janesville. The father died in 1891. The funeral was held at the home on Thursday afternoon, July 5, conducted by Rev. Mr. Varney, of Monroe, and was largely attended. The interment was in the Milton cemetery, the services at the grave being in charge of the Eastern Star, of which order Miss Church was a member.

USE BOWER CITY INK IN FOREIGN LANDS

Parker Pen Company Ship Large Quantity of Writing Fluid to Paris and Vienna.

The Parker Pen company of this city, are building up an immense foreign trade in the inks manufactured by them, for use in fountain pens.

Last week they made one shipment of eighteen hundred bottles to parties in Paris and Vienna. Considering the number of large ink manufacturers with whom they have to compete, this seems remarkable, and shows that the users of ink appreciate the high quality of the goods manufactured by this company. It is not alone their foreign trade that is growing, but their domestic trade is also increasing rapidly.

MANGLED BY TRAIN, GRAHAM MAY DIE

EVANSVILLE MAN LOST A LEG LAST NIGHT.

Fell From a Midnight Passenger and Lay Bleeding on the Track Until a Freight Crew Picked Him Up—Condition Is Critical Because of Blood Loss.

Robert Graham, a married man about forty years of age, residing in Evansville, met with an accident last night that may cost him his life. As it is his left leg had to be amputated just below the knee and his right foot is badly hurt.

In his dazed condition it was a hard matter to get a clear story of how the accident happened.

Graham was on the train that reaches here on the Chicago & Northwestern road some time after midnight. The car was very close and after leaving Clinton Graham said he went out on the platform to get some fresh air. The motion of the train running at a high rate of speed caused him to slip and fall. In falling he grasped the hand rail and swung between the cars, the wheels catching his leg. Then he lost his grip on the guard rail and fell to the track, the train passing over his left foot and leg. The fall and the shock stunned him and he laid alongside the track until picked up by a freight, following the passenger. The freight crew brought him to this city. The fire patrol was called at 4:30 o'clock this morning, and upon arrival of the freight the injured man was carried to the Palmer Memorial hospital, and the company's surgeon summoned.

Condition Is Critical

He found upon examination that the left leg up to the knee was badly smashed and the left foot almost gone, and the cords and arteries badly bruised and torn, necessitating the amputation of the left leg below the knee. It is hoped by the doctor in charge that the injured man may be saved.

Graham's condition is critical, for the reason that he lost a large amount of blood before he was picked up by the freight crew and also on his way to the city after being picked up.

The accident happened about one mile north of Clinton. The cause seems surrounded in mystery. No one saw Graham fall.

Graham resides in Evansville where he works at teaming. He is a married man and has five children. His wife was notified of his accident this morning.

"Joe" Cantillon, a former Janesville ball player, now an umpire in the American League, seems to be having troubles of his own.

At a recent game in Detroit, Michigan, between the Detroit and the Chicago club, Cantillon aroused so much feeling by his decisions that the spectators tried to mob him, and it was with difficulty that the police were able to keep the spectators from doing him bodily harm.

Cantillon stuck to his decisions and was game to the finish, and all the crowd could not make him budge. After the game was finished he walked over to the Detroit

COLONY OF BOERS COMING.

MANY WILL GO TO LOUISIANA.

Railroads Offer Them Inducements to Settle on Unoccupied Land—First Batch of Afrikaners Expected at Close of War.

Chicago, July 17.—Reports from South Africa indicate that the scheme of the railroads to colonize Boers in the United States after the war will succeed. For several months officers of several of the big railroad companies operating in the territory west of Chicago have been active in their efforts to induce President Kruger's people to shake the dust of the Transvaal from their feet and come to the United States, where they would be able to live in peace under a government to their liking. The plan was to induce the Boer farmers to immigrate to this country and settle on the great tracts of unoccupied lands belonging to the western railway systems. The idea originated with officers of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy company about six months ago. Agents were sent to South Africa to lay the advantages of American farms before the warring descendants of the Dutch.

Union Pacific Joins.
Subsequently the Union Pacific took up the idea and during the recent visit of the Boer envoys agents of the land department of this road were sent to Washington to discuss the scheme with Kruger's representatives. Later, when the envoys visited Chicago, conferences between them and the agents of the Union Pacific company were had. The envoys looked favorably upon the plans of the railroad people and it is said they have so reported to President Kruger. When it was learned that the roads directly west of Chicago were after the Boers to occupy the trans-Missouri land offices of the Southern Pacific road resolved to get in on the colonization plan and dispatched agents to Africa. Representatives of this company recently reported that they had secured between 700 and 800 Boer families to immigrate to the United States and settle on land in Louisiana. It is said that the southern part of this country appealed to the Boers because the climate was more like the one they have lived in.

Coming When War Closes.
The latest reports are to the effect that at least 10,000 Boer families have arranged to immigrate to this country as soon as it shall have become plain that the British will win in the present struggle. British rule will naturally be obnoxious to the Boers and rather than live under it they will come to America, where, though among strangers and people speaking another language, they will be independent. It is said that the decision of the Boers to come to this country has been influenced somewhat by the Irish-Americans who went to the Transvaal to help in the war against the British.

WARSHP ONE-FIFTH SIZE.
Exhibit Attracts Attention at the Maritime Exposition in Holland.

The Hague, July 17.—Queen Wilhelmina opened the national historical maritime exhibition in the royal palace in the Kneuterdijk square today. The chief attraction in the exhibition is an exact model of Admiral de Ruyter's famous flagship, the Seven Provinces. The model is forty-five feet by twelve, one-fifth the actual size of the original vessel, has forty-eight guns and is manned by sailors from the royal navy.

This interesting model was built at Nieuwieden shipyard, and was sailed through the canals to Leyden, where it was dismantled and towed to The Hague, where it was conveyed on a specially constructed carriage through the town and launched on the Vlissinghe lake, close to the exhibition. Fully rigged with sails bent and everything complete, it is of the greatest interest to the thousands who visit the exhibition.

McGovern Beats Erne.
New York, July 17.—Before a crowd that filled Madison Square garden as it seldom has been filled before, Frank Erne, lightweight champion, went down to defeat at the hands of the unconquerable McGovern. Scheduled to go ten rounds, the fight lasted less than three, but in the eight minutes of battle more punishment was given and received than is sometimes seen in long-distance contests between larger men. Erne was not knocked out, but was so hopelessly defeated that his handlers saved him from further punishment by tossing a sponge into the ring as a token of surrender. Erne and McGovern fought for 50 per cent of the gross receipts, to be divided equally. The house was estimated at $35,000.

ESTER'S CHANCE IS SLIM

Evidence in Gates Murder Case Tells for the State.

CORPSE SEEN IN THE CREEK.

A New Witness Testifies That He Saw the Body in the Wagon Driven by Jester—It Was Swaying from Side to Side in the Box.

New London, Mo., July 17.—Testimony in the Jester trial was continued today. Mrs. Rebecca Steward, wife of Captain Hugh Steward, who testified Saturday to seeing a pool of blood in the road in Hulen Lane along which Jester was traveling, fully corroborated her husband's testimony. Mrs. Amanda Clark testified that she, too, accompanied by her sister, rode along Hulen Lane the same day, and when near the old Presbyterian church met Jester with two teams and wagons. In those days, she said, strangers spoke to each other on the highways and she spoke to Jester, but he did not answer and acted peculiarly. In the rear wagon she saw the figure of a man lying on the floor under some covering. As soon as she passed the wagons she saw blood spots in the snow, and farther on she saw a pool of blood in the road. When she returned from Middle Grove she noticed that the trail of blood turned south at the mouth of Hulen Lane.

Saw Body in the Wagon.
Witnesses were introduced who saw what was taken to be a corpse in one of the wagons in Jester's outfit. The next spring the body of a man somewhat resembling Gilbert Gates, was seen by two witnesses to float downstream at the going out of the ice. Chief Justice Brace of the Missouri supreme court was an attentive listener to much of the afternoon's work. He was introduced to the famous prisoner and shook his hand heartily. The prisoner's appearance today was much different than on other days of the trial. He took more interest in the evidence given and occasionally conversed with his daughter. Several of the aged witnesses who are in attendance on the trial are quite seriously ill, which may hamper the prosecution's case.

Refuses to Sell Team.
Alfred Field testified that he heard the Gates boy tell Jester near Hulen lane that he would not sell his team nor would he trade them under any circumstances. This is in contradiction to the defense theory that Jester did in fact purchase of young Gates his entire outfit.

Saw Both the Wagons.

William C. Kelley saw the two wagons on the fatal day. The first was driven by the old man and the last by the young man. He saw the old man get out of his wagon and go back and get in Gates' wagon. He remained there quite a long time, sufficiently long for him and a boy to walk about half a mile in rather deep snow. Then the old man got out of the Gates wagon and tied the Gates team to his wagon. The evidence on the part of the state is considered very important, as it establishes what is considered the strongest circumstantial evidence of the murder at that time of Gilbert W. Gates. Mr. Kelley also saw the blood spots and the large pool of blood that has been sworn to by five different witnesses.

A new witness, one who has never given evidence before, named William Maxey, proved to be by far the star witness so far of the case. He passed through Hulen lane on the day of the murder and passed the buffalo salt outfit. He saw in the last wagon a man lying in the bottom of the wagon and plainly saw the side of his face and part of his shoulder. The body swayed with the wagon. He kept this evidence a secret for many years, claiming that he did not wish to be a witness. His evidence was closely cross-examined by the defense.

Goebel Murder Trial Continues.
Georgetown, Ky., July 17.—The trial of former Secretary of State Caleb Powers, charged with being accessory to the Goebel murder, is still in progress. A squad of burly deputy sheriffs still remain on duty at the courtroom door and search all persons entering the room to prevent anyone entering with pistols.

Dr. John South of Frankfort, one of the physicians who attended Goebel, testified as to the wounds. He was followed by Colonel Jack Chinn, who was with Goebel when the shooting occurred. At the time of the assassination there was not a human being in the yard, except possibly one or two about the gates. He described the scene. The pistol shot seemed to come from a window in the secretary of state's office. Witness said he saw a window in Powers' office slightly raised. Continuing, the witness said that in eight or ten minutes after the assassination the troops took charge of the statehouse. The cross-examination did not reveal anything new.

Farmer Hangs Himself.
Princeton, Ill., July 17.—Swan Jacobson, a well-to-do farmer living near town, took his own life here by hanging.

PLEDGES REDEEMED.

THREE YEARS' WORK OF MR. MCKINLEY'S ADMINISTRATION.

Splendid Record of Achievements. Revision of the Tariff—Cubans Freed From Spanish Rule—Homestead Policy Restored.

Three years of President McKinley's administration show the pledges of the platform fully redeemed—the revision of the tariff on protective lines, placing the finances of the country on a sound basis, caring for the veterans and widows of the civil war, relieving the Cubans from Spanish rule, restoring the homestead policy, making Hawaii a territory of the United States, securing a West India naval station. In addition the following legislation has been accomplished: The war measures of 1898, providing Alaska with a civic code and judiciary system, arranging for the government of Porto Rico.

Appropriations made by the first session of the Fifty-sixth congress amounted to $709,720,470.89. This includes $131,247,185.82 in connection with the late war with Spain. Deducting it, the remaining $578,482,321.57 represents the ordinary appropriations made for the support of the government. The chief increases are as follows:

For the department of agriculture.....	$840,000
For increase of the navy.....	7,081,016
For payment of pensions.....	3,081,250
For the postal service.....	17,782,300
By the sundry civil act—
Expenses of the twelfth census.....	9,000,000
Expenses of lighthouse establishment.....	453,400
Prevention of epidemic diseases.....	500,000
For armories and arsenals.....	915,305
For military posts.....	600,000
For volunteer soldiers' homes.....	645,354
For public printing and binding.....	980,000
New government printing office building.....	775,000
By permanent appropriations, including $2,000,000 for requirements of sinking fund and $1,000,000 for redemption of national bank notes.....	6,634,000
Total .....	$50,223,826

These increases in federal appropriations need no defense and but a word of explanation.

The amount for the department of agriculture is only a proper compliance with the natural demands of the agricultural interests of the country.

For pensions the amounts simply represents the natural increase of the pension roll.

For the increase of the navy the excess over the appropriations of 1898 is necessary for the construction, armor, armament and equipment of battleships, cruisers, gunboats and torpedo boats heretofore authorized and is no more than is absolutely necessary toward placing the navy expeditiously in the proper condition universally demanded by the people for the national defense.

The largest single item of increase is that for the postal service, $17,782,300. It represents the progress and development of the times. Its very largeness is a source of congratulation.

The twelfth census is provided for as required by the constitution and an expense incurred but once in ten years.

The lighthouse establishment constitutes the chief government aid to the maritime interests of the country, and the increase in the amount for its support is to meet the legitimate requirements of the service.

For the prevention of epidemic disease an increase of $500,000 is given in order to protect the country against the introduction of yellow fever, cholera, the bubonic plague and other similar diseases.

The amount for armories and arsenals is in order to increase the facilities of the Springfield arsenal and to fully equip the Rock Island arsenal for the production of small arms for the army.

For military posts the increase is wholly on account of providing proper quarters for the artillery troops in charge of our new seacoast fortifications.

The number of those entitled to and requiring the shelter and support of the National Home For Disabled Volunteer Soldiers and of state homes annually increases, and the proper amount is given to this beneficent branch of the public service.

For printing and binding there appears to be an increase of $980,000. In fact, the actual increase over the appropriations for 1898 is only $800,000. For the appropriations made for 1899 a deficiency of $200,600 was provided for this service on account of the fiscal year 1898. Much of the actual increase is attributable to the increased volume of business in the treasury, war and navy departments incident to the war with Spain.

At the last session of congress a new government printing office building was authorized to be constructed. Its total cost will be $2,429,000, toward which, including the amount given this session, the sum of $1,123,000 has been appropriated.

Democrats here are quite disturbed by the statement made by E. C. Benedict, the old time friend of Grover Cleveland, who says that "the gross outrages perpetrated upon the good name of the Democratic party by the present managers make me at present a political orphan." It is felt that there will be many other political orphans among the Democratic ranks this year, and some of them will surely find their way into the Republican fold rather than remain homeless and fatherless.

Another instance of our growth as a world power is shown by the announcement that the president of the Russian Imperial bank is about to visit this country to negotiate a further loan in connection with the Siberian railway and to consider the feasibility of establishing here a Russo-American bank.

What Kansas Needs. The demand for farmhands in Kansas is largely in excess of the demand for Populist oratory.

GIRLS CRUSHED BY A TRAIN.

Two Killed Outright and a Third Severe from Her Injuries.

Prescott, Ind., July 17.—Misses Mary Wheeler, Josie Zobell and Katie Schaf, in a two-seated spring wagon left their homes for St. Vincent's church to rehearse parts in a picnic program, and just before reaching their destination, and when crossing the Big Four railroad tracks, the "White City Special" bore down upon them, killing Misses Wheeler and Schaf outright and injuring Miss Zobell so badly that death soon ended her suffering. Miss Schaf was carried 200 yards on the cowcatcher, and when the train backed to the crossing the dead body was removed from the engine by the heartbroken parents, who live near. The horse and rig were ground to pieces. Relatives claim that the engineer failed to blow his whistle at the crossing. The train was running forty-five miles an hour.

Insects Eat Indiana Crops.

Central Indiana is experiencing a grasshopper plague. During the past two weeks millions of these insects have hatched out in the fields and they seem to be ushered into the world with full-grown appetites. On hundreds of farms the pastures have been eaten so close there is nothing left for the stock. The timothy crop has been destroyed and the insects are now moving on the oats. Many farmers are making hay of their oats in order to save them. It is feared that the growing corn will be attacked next.

Son's Evidence Holds Father.

Joseph D. Keith at Boothville, Ind., was held without bail to answer to the charge of murdering Miss Nora Kifer whose body was found in Pigeon Creek north of Evansville, some weeks ago. Keith's son gave damaging testimony against the father.

Name Triplets for Big Men.

Mrs. David Radclif, wife of a farmer living near Carroll, Mo., gave birth to three boys Thursday. The triplets, who are a healthy trio, were named by the father William McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt and Marcus Hanna Radclif.

Wants War Dancing Stopped.

Solway, Minn., July 17.—Capt. Mercer has returned to the agency from a visit across the lake, where he has been with Indian Agents Shears and Morrison in the hopes of inducing the Blanket Indians to desist in their war dancing. The majority of the Indians appear willing to confer with the whites, but hesitate on account of the absence of four bucks who they claim are leaders.

Robber Is Shot Dead.

Chicago, July 17.—Michael Ward was shot and killed in the stock yards by John Leslie, a watchman. Ward, with two companions, had robbed the saloon of Otto Ratzlaff and was being chased by a large crowd. Pistols were being discharged right and left, and when Leslie tried to stop Ward the latter fired at him. The watchman returned the fire and killed Ward.

TO SEIZE LI HUNG CHANG.

Plan to Imprison and Hold Him as Hostage.

IS SUGGESTED BY ENGLAND

International Troops at Tien-Tsin Defeated by the Chinese—Details of the Great Battle in Which Col. E. H. Liscom and Other Leaders Fell.

London, July 17.—It was stated in the lobby of the House of Commons that the government has issued orders for the seizure of Li Hung Chang and for his imprisonment at Hong Kong pending his deportation to some place in India in the event of his proceeding northward by sea to Pekin. English gunboats are hovering off the coast of the province of Kwan-Tung with orders to intercept any vessel having the viceroy on board and to secure his person. It is resolved to hold Li Hung Chang as a hostage.

Washington, D. C., July 17.—The navy department this morning received an official confirmation from Admiral Remey of the reverse of the allied forces at Tientsin on the morning of the 13th.

The dispatch is dated Chefoo, July 16, and says: "Reported that allied forces attacked native city the morning of the 13th. Russians were on the right, with Ninth infantry and marines on the left."

"Losses allied forces large. Russian, 100, including artillery colonel; Americans over thirty; British over forty; Japanese fifty-eight, including colonel; French twenty-five. Col. Liscom, 9th infantry, killed; also Capt. Davis, marine corps; Capt. Lemley, Lieuts. Butler and Leonard wounded.

"At 7 evening allied attack on native city was repulsed, with great loss. Returns yet incomplete. Details not yet confirmed." Remey.

Admiral Seymour telegraphs the admiralty from Taku under date of July 14 that he believes the allies have possession of all the forts at Tien-Tsin except one. The allies at Taku and Tien-Tsin on July 10 were as follows: Russians, 3,340; Japanese, 5,224; British, 2,575; Germans, 1,036; Americans, 1,400, and small detachments of Austrians and Italians which brought the total up to 21,304. Considerable of the forces had been landed at Taku on the way to Tien-Tsin. The facilities at Taku were limited, however, and the re-enforcements would be obliged to wait.

London, July 17.—The Evening News prints a dispatch from Shanghai giving a detailed account of the attack of the allied forces on the native city of Tien-Tsin July 13. According to the dispatch, the allies were repulsed and compelled to retreat with a loss of more than 100 killed, the British losing forty and the Japanese sixty. The Americans and Russians it is added, also suffered heavily.

Tien-Tsin, July 13, via Chefoo, July 15, and Shanghai, July 16.—At 2 o'clock this afternoon 7,000 of the allied troops were attempting to storm the walls of the city. The attack began at daylight. Its success is doubtful. The Chinese on the walls are estimated conservatively, at 20,000. They are pouring a terrific hail of artillery, rifle and machine-gun fire upon the attackers. The Americans, Japanese, British and French troops are attacking from the west and the Russians from the east.

Records of the Fallen.

The war department has prepared the following account of Col. Liscom's service record: He was born in Vermont in 1841. He entered the volunteer service as corporal in the First Vermont infantry in May, 1861, and was appointed second Lieutenant Feb. 19, 1863. He rose in the regular line to colonel of the Ninth infantry, April 25, 1899. While in the Spanish war he was made brigadier-general of volunteers July 12, 1898, serving in that capacity till Dec. 31 of the same year. His record briefly stated in chronological order is as follows:

Brevetted captain United States army Aug. 1, 1864, "for gallant services in the battle of Bethesda Church and during the campaign before Richmond, Va." During the war of 1861-65, with his regiment in the army of the Potowmac, participating in the battles of Cedar Mountain, Bull Run, Chancellorsville, Gettysburg (where he was wounded), Bethesda Church and the siege of Petersburg.

Since the war of the rebellion, he served on the frontier, etc., to April, 1898, commanding his regiment in Florida and in the Santiago campaign to July 1, 1898, when he was wounded in the battle of San Juan, Cuba; on sick leave to April, 1899, and commanding his regiment en route to and in command of the First brigade, Second division, Eighth army corps, Jan. 15, 1900, to April 18, 1900; commanding his regiment in the Philippines to June 27, 1900, when he sailed with it for Taku, China.

Capt. Austin R. Davis, United States marine corps, also, killed, was a native of Georgia. He entered the marine corps as a second lieutenant on July 1, 1894. He went out to the Philippines in April, 1899, in charge of the marines, who took over the Cavite naval station from the military branch. His commission as captain in the marine corps is dated March 3, 1899.

Capt. Wm. B. Lemley, the marine corps, who is reported wounded, is a native of North Carolina, and a nephew of Judge Advocate-General Lemley of the navy. He entered the corps on its increase in March, 1898.

being attached to the staff as an assistant quartermaster, with the rank of captain.

Lieut. Smedley D. Butler of the marine corps, also wounded, was one of the new officers in the service, having been appointed from Pennsylvania in April, 1899. He was sent to the Philippines immediately upon his appointment and was one of the officers drawn from the Cavite station by Admiral Kempf's forces at Taku.

Maj. James Reagan of the Ninth infantry entered the military service from New York as a musician in company H, Second infantry, before the civil war. He served throughout that war and received a commission as second Lieutenant in the Eighteenth infantry in December, 1866.

ILLINOIS TROOPS OFFER SERVICES.

Springfield, Ill., July 17.—Officers and enlisted men of the Fourth and Fifth regiments of the Illinois National Guard gave their services for use in China to the war department. The action followed quickly upon receipt of the news of the deaths of Col. Liscom and other officers of the Ninth United States Infantry while battling against the Mongolians. The two regiments, composing the Second Brigade are on their annual weekly encampment. After evening mess, the line officers waited upon the colonels and asked them to offer the services of the regiments, through Gov. Tanner, to the government.

BOTTLING UP FREE-STÄTERS.

Effort to Surround President Steyn and Dewet's Army.

London, July 17.—There is a prospect that President Steyn, with Gen. Dewet and the Orange Free State army, may be bottled up in a valley near Wit kop by three columns of British, each column guarding an approach. Reports from the front are to the effect that two of these approaches are held, one by the colonial troops, the other by the 17th brigade. It remains for Gen. Rundell's forces to complete the cordon.

A dispatch from Pretoria says the reports circulated in London that Gen. Roberts is seriously ill are unfounded. He walks and rides about daily. The veteran field marshal is in the best of health and spirits, cheery, youthful and vigorous. Boers continue massing from ten to twenty miles outside the Magaliesburg range, near Pretoria. Their laagers extend from the Delagoa Bay railway across the Warsburg line westward. Commandant Grobeler, with the Zoutshansberg commando, Commandant Lemmer and others are among the leaders, while Gen. Botha is said to be encamped between Jinkan, on the Eland river, and Hartebeeste spruit. The enemy's total strength is variously estimated, but is probably about 10,000 men, with many guns.

Discovery Plot at Treichia.

Pretoria, July 17.—Three hundred and eighty vagrant foreigners have been arrested at Johannesburg in consequence of the discovery of a plot to create a riot and to join a Boer commando with which they have been in communication. The foreign consuls have been notified that the suspects will be liberated if they (the consuls) will answer for their future good behavior.

Woman Hangs Herself in Room.

Kewanee, Ill., July 17.—Mrs. George Godfrey, an elderly woman, the wife of a prominent and well-to-do business man of Genesco, committed suicide by hanging herself. The rope was tied about the transom of the door and the woman jumped from a chair, dying from suffocation, the neck not being broken.

Street Railroads in Great Britain.

Some nineteen or twenty British cities own and operate street railway systems, and of the whole track mileage in Great Britain over one-third is owned by the public.

A Society Woman

Undergoes a greater strain than is generally realized, and every woman is a society woman in her own circle. The debts of society are many and must be paid or there will come social bankruptcy, and it is in the punctual payment of social debts, regardless of health or feelings, that women often lay the foundation for serious illness. The late hours and rich foods, common to society gatherings, soon or late damage the stomach, the liver, perhaps, becomes involved, and the heart flutters or palpitates.

There is no medicine for the cure of diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion which can equal Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It heals the stomach, purifies and enriches the blood, cleanses the clogged liver, nourishes the nerves, and gives face and form the radiant beauty of health. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, and is absolutely free from opium, cocaine and other narcotics.

Mrs. L. Hedgerocke, of Dozier, Collingsworth County, Texas, was troubled seven or eight years with indigestion and liver complaints and received more benefit from the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and "Pleasant Pellets" than any medicines I have ever tried."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure constipation.

It has been our custom, after the Fourth of July, to go with a determination to clean up all remaining summer styles. We found it the most paying, rather than have accumulations to carry over. We have arranged in different lots, in both men's and women's, regardless of make, a goodly variety of the best styles to be found anywhere. Cost is all we ask for some; others' way below.
